Education: master

Develop, validate, and translate to deploy polygenic risk scores into reports

Use statistical approaches and large datasets to build workflows

Contribute to scientific collaborations within academia and industry partners

Industry experience using and developing methods for analyzing human genetic data

Industry experience planning and executing statistical analysis on large-scale genetic datasets

Industry experience with GWAS or post-association analysis

PhD in Quantitative or Computational Field